- Library Organizations in Each State
 - Working to build relationships with state libraries to engage libraries across the state from the top down

Importance of Libraries in Response to the Opioid Crisis

Importance of Extension Programs in Response to the Opioid Crisis

- 4-H reaches nearly 6 million young people in the United States
- 4-H programs' values align with the need for American education on substance misuse and the opioid crisis.
- It is critical that 4-H programming be aware of mechanisms causing health disparities in their community.
- The opioid toolkit will help equip 4-H programs and leaders with the tools to evaluate the effects of the opioid crisis.
